LOT 78 - Rod Prouse - Untitled Landscape

Artist Description Rod Prouse (1945 - CAD) O.S.A. In 1946, at the age of two, Rod Prouse and his family immigrated to Canada from England. He graduated from the Ontario College of Art in 1968 and worked for a brief period in the commercial art world before becoming a full-time artist. In 1972, Prouse settled in Halifax, Nova Scotia and began to exhibit his work. His first one-man show, in 1977 at the Canadian Fine Arts Gallery in Toronto, met with rave reviews. Subsequent Canadian and international exhibitions have proven equally successful. He currently lives in Georgian Bay, Ontario and travels widely capturing the life & energy of each place he visits within his art. Rod has worked in watercolours, gouache, pastel, conte, oil and pencil, as well as with drawing tools as unlikely as routers, skill saws and grinders. His painting is accomplished and assured, exuding a great sense of vitality and exuberance. Within his woodcuts and engravings he creates intact universes embedded in line and shape. Over the years, he has received numerous teaching and project grants, as well as awards of recognition for photography and design. He has sat as juror for exhibitions and for Ontario Arts Council grants, and has been an artist in residence at Open Studio, Georgian College and Claude Watson School of the Arts. Rod's recent activities include underwater sculpture, arts education development, mural commissions, judging art exhibits and teaching at Sir Sanford Fleming College. Rod spends several weeks every year in Whistler, British Columbia creating wonderful images of the town site and surrounding area exclusively for The Gallery at Chateau Whistler.
