LOT 66 - Judy Gouin - Fallen Branch Of Snow

Artist Description JUDY GOUIN (1947 - ) Born England and trained at the Chelsea School of Art the second time. Judy had always known she wanted to be an artist since eleven years old. Judy Gouin initially was mainly a printmaker / photographer. She did most of her work at the Open Studio in Toronto. Then in the 1980's she stopped her art career for a few years to become the Ontario Arts Council Officer for Film, Photography and Video. With this income, Judy was able to decide where she wished to live and chose Temagami. Here she continued making art, but after what she says was a period of long hard thought, she discovered she wanted to return to painting. Judy has had numerous solo exhibitions, particularly at Joan Ferneyhough Gallery, Agnes Etherington and Temiskaming Art Gallery (for the Art Gallery of Ontario Artists With Their Work Program in 1985). Her work is in public collections including the National Gallery of Canada, the Canadian Museum of Contemporary Photography and the Ontario Art Gallery. She also has works in numerous private and corporate collections
